CT SCAN OF THE BRAIN WITHOUT CONTRAST

Clinical Data: Fracture lower end both ulna & radius. For ORIF left wrist.

TECHNIQUE: Multiple 3.0-mm axial cuts were taken through the brain without I.V. contrast injection, with coronal and sagittal reconstructions revealing:

FINDINGS:

- Right high parietal hyperdense sub-glial hematoma seen
- Right orbital pre-septal soft tissue swelling & edema
- Limited section of the PNS revealed partially opacified right maxillary sinus with hyperdense air fluid level, possibility of intra-sinus hemorrhage can be suggested, for dedicated CT PNS study assessment.
- No intra-cerebral hematoma or extra-axial fluid collection.
- Normal CT density of the brain parenchyma with no definite focal lesion.
- Normal size, shape & position of the ventricular system, with no shift of the midline structures.
- Thalami and basal ganglia are within normal.
- Posterior fossa structures are unremarkable.
- Cerebellum and brain stem are within normal.
- No abnormality seen in the soft tissue or bones of the skull base.

IMPRESSION:

- Right high parietal sub-glial hematoma
- Right orbital pre-septal soft tissue swelling & edema
- Right maxillary sinus opacity as detailed, possibility of intra-sinus hemorrhage can be suggested, for dedicated CT PNS study assessment.
